- Gaps in Decree 21
- Some evidence on ads and promotion
- Wrong traditions give ways to formulas

One Asia Breastfeeding Partners Forum #7

- The Prime Minister issued the Decree 21/2006/ND-CP regarding promotion and use of nutrition food for young children (from 6 to 24 months old);
- Milk ads for new born children still survive extremely well by one way or another;

- Nice statements, cute pictures about certain milk are made appear not only on milk containers but also on various ordinary stuff such as notebooks, pens, tables, clothes, drinking glasses, bags on many more.
- The more subtle words are used, the more attractive the milk will be;

One Asia Breastfeeding Partners Forum #7

- Milk companies attack the fear of young mothers of loosing beautiful appearance due to BF;
- Wrong tradition of diet and nutrition after giving birth is one of the reasons for inadequacy of breast milk among mums for new born kids;
- To mothers who are concerned about immunizing elements, milk companies provide them with choice of colostrum products, boasting that they even contain more the colostrum than in breast milk and the quality is compared to breast milk;

- Influences of milk ad upon parents choice before birth about use, type of milk for their kids;
- Parents, especially mums, nowadays choose the type of milk to feed their offerings according to milk ads. They are so confused;

One Asia Breastfeeding Partners Forum #7

- “Breast milk is the best choice for the new born and young children’s health and comprehensive development” is the very first sentence in Decree 21.
- This statement is a compulsory starting sentence of any milk ads for kids under 12 months old according to Decree 21;
HOWEVER...

One Asia Breastfeeding Partners Forum #7

- It is read as quickly as possible in every milk ads clips on television;
- The next sentence in the decree gives a very clear and important explanation to the first one and it is never mentioned in milk ads, which is “Breast milk contains immunising elements that help prevent and protect against diarrhea, respiratory disease and other popular diseases in children.”

Workshops and events to promote milk sale – Who organise?

- New born kids' parents contacts are known and called and invited to workshops on new born care counselling. Milk companies never organise these events. But milk is presented as gift and milk quality is introduced as part of the events.
- New born kids' parents contacts are likely to be provided by hospitals;
